New Raids On Anti-Invasion Defenses

NAPLES AND OTHER BASES ARE FLEAIED

Two Sicilian Airdromes and Enemy Shipping Off Greece Targets of Allied Bombers

SARDINIA IS EVACUATED

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Italy's bomb-scarred port of Naples, two Sicilian airdromes and enemy shipping off Greece came under the fall of Allied warplanes in the latest assaults in the Mediterranean, it was announced today, as the Axis stressed new invasion preparations against southern Europe.

Italian headquarters said Allied raiders also blasted the area of Mt. Vesuvius, the famous volcano, including modern Pompeii.

"Large British forces are concentrating along the southern frontier of Turkey," the Rome radio asserted, amplifying its previous assertion that many Allied landing craft were massing at Pantelleria Island, 60 miles from Sicily.

Dispatches from Ankara said the 350-mile border between Turkey and Syria was reopened at 6 a. m. yesterday, after all traffic except Allied diplomatic and military personnel had been halted for 48 hours to screen troop movements.

Axis radios asserted that British and Indian reinforcements had been moved to Cyprus, 69 miles off Syria, a potential base for invasion of the Balkans, Crete or the Dodecanese Islands. American troops were said to be among the Cyprus garrison.

Another enemy report said a 52-mile stretch in northern Syria along with the Lebanese coast had been declared military areas and closed to civilians.

Cyprus is the third largest island in the Mediterranean, after Sicily and Sardinia.

Meanwhile, a Rome broadcast disclosed that all except 6,000 to 7,000 inhabitants out of a normal population of 100,000 had been evacuated from Cagliari, the capital of Sardinia, to escape Allied bombing.

"Civil service officials who remained in the town are bravely tending to their duties among the ruins," the broadcast said.

EAF night raiders shot up railway trains and barges in northern France. German planes, flying over the rooftops at terrific speed, bombed a postoffice in London and killed two persons. Three others were killed in an English north coast town.

While Axis radios nervously declared that British and American raiders were preparing to strike across the eastern Mediterranean, Allied warplanes continued to hammer Italy's anti-invasion defenses.

U. S. heavy bombers flying from the Middle East attacked the airdromes at Comiso and Biscari, Sicily, across the narrow Messina Strait from the toe of Italy, and returned without loss.

RAF long-range fighters again loomed the Aegean sea, blasting a enemy ship off Delos Island and shooting down a three-engine Italian bomber off Cyprus.

Jap Propagandists Hail "Zoot Suiters"

New York, June 18.—(P)—Japanese propagandists have their own explanation for recent American "zoot suit" incidents.

In a Tokyo broadcast reported today to the Office of War Information, a Japanese commentator declared:

"The American zoot-suiters are isolationists and anti-war fighters. They are strong, courageous young men who have banded together into a nationwide army to express by physical force their disapproval of the war."

Drafting Of Fathers May Be Extended

Calling Up Of Dads May Not Start in October As Predicted

HINGES ON CASUALTIES

Washington, June 18.—(P)—Don't be surprised if the delay in drafting fathers, now presumably put off until October, is extended again—without official announcement—perhaps indefinitely.

"There are three reasons behind that prediction," said D. C., the mythical District of Columbia observer who represents authentic but unquotable sources, "and the first one may hurt the dad's feelings. They aren't wanted."

"There are three reasons behind that prediction," said D. C., the mythical District of Columbia observer who represents authentic but unquotable sources, "and the first one may hurt the dad's feelings. They aren't wanted."

"Second reason, of course," he continued, "is that the planned quotas are now nearly full, and the new crops of 18-year-olds are expected to supply most replacements, aided by the single and childless married men who have occupational or minor physical deferments."

"But the third reason is a combination of increased emphasis on aerial warfare and a turning-point trend toward sharpening the present striking force rather than continuing to expand it."

MORE RESTRICTIONS IN FOOD PREDICTED

State College, June 18.—(P)—Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, warned Pennsylvania Grange leaders at an annual leadership school here that the United States can expect further food restrictions.

He said poor weather conditions have interfered with planting and harvesting, and machinery shortages prevent restoration of 17 per cent of the land removed from cultivation since World War I.

In another food front development, John U. Shroyer, secretary of highways, said in Harrisburg he was considering a suggestion of Auditor General F. Clair Ross that idle state road machinery, like tractors, be loaned to farmers to increase food production.

London and Coast Towns Are Bombed

London, June 18.—(P)—The RAF carried its current offensive against Axis targets across the channel last night while the German air force dropped bombs in London and on a south coast town.

Intruder planes ranging over northern France dropped their nighty packet of bombs on the airfield at Poix, near Amiens; peppered a speeding E-boats off the French coast with bombs and cannon fire, and shot up railway trains and barges, the air ministry news service said.

One mosquito pilot reported that he believed he had hit an ammunition train standing at a station so he went back and fired through the train shed, touching off more explosives.

The forays were on a small scale compared with the attacks carried out during the last week on Düsseldorf, Münster, Bochum, Oberhausen and Cologne, which had its 116th raid of the war Wednesday night.

Nazi raiders, meanwhile, running at top speed and low over London rooftops, plopped down a single surprise bomb in a major street, wrecking a postoffice and killing two persons. Two others were seriously injured and several were slightly hurt.

Nazi Attacks Are Smashed By Red Army

Moscow, June 18.—(P)—German efforts to recapture lost positions in the west of the Mtsensk, above the Russian battlefield "hinge" at el, have been smashed and the Red army has inflicted heavy losses on semi-trained Nazi reservists in rear-line troops thrown into a struggle, front line dispatches today.

The Soviet midnight communiqué said several German attacks in the area were repulsed yesterday and many manpower and equipment were lost.

The dispatches from the front stated one German prisoner as admitting that his division was composed entirely of reservists because of the highly-trained regular troops had been killed.

A special Moscow broadcast declared long-range Russian bombers, turning the offensive to smash Axis war supplies, set 100 big fires in German airdromes on Wednesday night.

NEW CRISIS IN MINE DISPUTE IS FORECAST

War Labor Board Decision Throwing Portal-to-Portal Pay Into Litigation Is Expected

STILL TALK STRIKE

BY JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
Washington, June 18.—(P)—A War Labor Board (WLB) decision throwing the portal-to-portal pay issue into litigation and thereby precipitating a new crisis in the soft coal wage dispute is forecast today by informed sources.

Barring a last minute hitch, these sources which would not permit identification, said the probability is an 80-4 WLB vote today, with the labor members dissenting.

Such a decision, it was said, would be made without prejudice to the rights of members of the United Mine Workers to bring lawsuits under the fair labor standards act to recover travel-time pay, as iron ore miners in the south have done.

The United Mine Workers policy committee was scheduled for a mid-afternoon meeting. It may remain in session to await the WLB's ruling and possibly decide the course to be taken after the present truce extension expires Sunday midnight.

UMW President John L. Lewis has refused to recognize the WLB's authority and appeared to be facing the alternative of another tie-up of the nation's soft coal mines or working for Security Indexes for the duration of the war while court action is sought.

The WLB had the alternative of going into the merits of the portal-to-portal demand and ordering a definite, general payment. This possibility was reported to have been explored at length. The public members, however, were represented as concluding that in taking such action they would have (Turn to Page Eleven)

FIRST LADY PLANNING SOUTH AMERICAN TOUR

Washington, June 18.—(P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is reported planning to tour South America this summer.

Although there has been no official announcement of the proposed trip, sources which cannot be identified said today that details are being taken.

A definite itinerary for her good neighbor tour has yet to be decided upon. The Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs is known to be working on plans for Mrs. Roosevelt's appearances in Latin America.

Her Latin American itinerary is confined tentatively to the countries of South America, although flights scheduled from the United States usually stop over in Mexico City.

CASE OF DOORBELL BANDIT IS CLOSED UP

Philadelphia, June 18.—(P)—The case of the doorbell bandit was closed today as 18-year-old William Moran, recently inducted into the army, began a 50-to-100 year sentence for armed robbery.

The youth readily admitted yesterday that, wearing a mask and brandishing a gun, he stole money and jewelry from houses after summoning victims by ringing the doorbell.

Another man had been sentenced to a long prison term as the "doorbell bandit" but was released after Moran's confession.

OPA Rules On B-C Rations

Washington, June 18.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration (OPA) ruled today that in the eastern shortage area B and C gasoline rations should not be issued to anyone living within 30 or 40 minutes walking time from his work.

The ruling was issued not only to guide local ration boards in the east in acting on future B and C applications but also as the basis for recalling some B and C coupons already issued.

However, OPA said local boards will have to consider in individual cases, "such factor as the applicant's age, physical condition, or need for transporting heavy or bulky objects, such as tools."

"Generally," OPA said, "one and a half to two miles each way or a distance which can be walked in 30 to 40 minutes or less is a reasonable walking distance."

Young Anglers Recover Body Of Lad Drowned In Allegheny River Here Eight Weeks Ago

Four boys engaged in fishing at The Point, where the Conewango creek flows into the Allegheny river, last evening about 4:45 found the body of little Dick Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kline, of South Street. The little fellow fell into the river on the evening of April 22 while at play on the river bank near the foot of Elm street, with his little sister. Efforts to recover the body at the time proved unavailing.

The body seemingly arose to the surface of the river about 50 feet from shore and was sighted by Gerry Littlefield, 13, of 109½ South Carver street, about a split second before the other lads with him: William Carlinio, 17, of 810 Lexington avenue; Richard Olson, 15, of 27 Linwood street, and Virgil Alabough, 15, of 27 South street.

At the place where the body arose is a particularly deep spot under the cable operating the bucket of the Yeagie Gravel Company. Too far out for the boys to swim out and bring it ashore, the boys began casting with their fish lines and finally hooked into the clothing and brought the body to shore.

Young Littlefield ran to a nearby telephone and notified the police and Lieut. M. Evan and Patrolman Conboy went to the scene in the police cruiser car. They brought the body ashore.

At first it was thought that the body might be that of a 14 year old boy that had been reported as missing to the police earlier in the day by his brother. However Mrs. Kline was taken to the scene and the clothing identified as that of her son. Identification was positive after she had described the clothing and undergarments. Police called the Lutz ambulance.

Coroner Ed C. Lowrey directed that the body be taken to a vault in Oakland cemetery and it was later taken in charge by F. O. Peterson.

A large crowd gathered quickly and police had to control the traffic and the people that tried to gain a view of the body which was soon wrapped in blankets.

The body had evidently been carried into the deep hole in the river made by the removal of gravel. The cold spring is thought to have kept the water cold so that the body did not rise until the warm air of the past week had (Turn to Page Eleven)

Hard Storms Leave Four Dead In State

By the Associated Press
A severe electrical storm, accompanied in many sections by high winds, left at least four persons dead in Pennsylvania today.

The storm, which struck suddenly last night, also knocked out power lines, damaged crops and resulted in several fires, most of them caused by lightning.

Air raid wardens and auxiliary police were called out at Catasauqua when a driving wind snapped electric wires, uprooted trees and tore the roof from one house, John Heir, 28, was treated for shock after lightning struck him.

Scores of canoeists on the Susquehanna river were rescued near Harrisburg, where several trees were blown down and a large trailer-truck overturned.

Fire started by lightning swept the second and third stories of the home of Willard K. Wise, vice president of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, in Havertown township.

Two trolleys were struck by lightning at Souderton, but passengers were uninjured.

Weak Blows on Guadalcanal Costs Japanese 77 Warplanes

BULLETIN
Washington, June 18.—(P)—The record breaking 120-plane air assault by the Japanese against Guadalcanal island Wednesday cost American forces 76 casualties, the navy announced today. It had previously disclosed that the Japs lost 77 of their fighters in the massive air attempt and that only six American planes were lost. Today's communiqué said the pilot of one of those planes had been rescued.

BY LEIF ERICKSON
An Advanced South Pacific Base, June 18.—(P)—Japan paid the startling price of 77 planes for her raid on Guadalcanal in which she threw an air fleet of perhaps 120 aircraft against the island but yet was able to damage only two small freight ships.

Only six American fighter planes were lost in the historic engagement, termed by a spokesman at this airforce headquarters as a major air victory, the greatest loss inflicted on the Japanese in any single battle in the Solomon area.

This destruction of 32 Japanese dive-bombers and 45 Zero fighters brings to 1,414 the official total of enemy planes downed in the South Pacific area since July 21, 1942. In this month of June alone, 146 enemy aircraft have been lost.

Word from the Solomon's air headquarters on last Wednesday's mass attack said about 120 planes came down on Guadalcanal—"with very few going back."

An airforce spokesman here said he understood the Japanese succeeded in scoring hits on only one liberty-type cargo ship, which was beached so she could be salvaged, and a smaller freighter which was set afire. Nine men were killed on this vessel.

Completion of Pipeline May Curb Midwest

Tighter Restrictions for Motorists There Believed Coming

NO RELIEF FOR THE EAST

Washington, June 18.—(P)—Completion of the eastward extension of the "big inch" oil pipeline around Aug. 1 probably will mean tighter restrictions on midwestern motorists without relaxing civilian use of gasoline in the east.

An informed source, declined to be named, said today the midwest is being spared now because gasoline will be saved by additional restrictions there could not be moved eastward by the heavily-burdened railroads, but opening of the pipeline section would change the picture.

He gave this picture:

The 24-inch line now delivers about 250,000 barrels of crude oil daily into Norris City, Ill., from Texas oil fields, but only about half of it can be hauled east by rail to meet military and civilian needs on the seaboard.

The rest goes to midwestern refineries at present, but it will be pumped straight through to the coast after the east leg of the big inch opens and deliveries are stepped up to its capacity of 300,000 barrels a day.

There will be little chance of offsetting the consequent loss to the midwest, already dependent on the southwest to help feed crude oil to its refineries, and further troubled with declining midwestern production, until Sept. 1 or later.

Then, the second Texas-to-east coast pipeline, a 20-inch tube, will be completed to Norris City and will pump some 165,000 barrels of oil products daily into the area, of which 45,000 barrels or so will remain for lack of means to transport it all to the east.

However, an eastward extension of this line is due for completion around Jan. 1, and all 165,000 barrels daily—even more during the next three months as the flow is stepped up to capacity of 235,000 barrels daily—will be pumped eastward, setting the midwest back again.

DAUGHTER OF SEN. DAVIS A LAUNCHING

Portsmouth, N. H., June 18.—(P)—Sponsored by Miss Jane F. Davis, daughter of Sen. James J. Davis (R-Pa.), the submarine Burr Fish was launched today at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

It was the seventh undersea craft launched at the yard in 1943.

Anti-Subsidy Bill Pushed

Washington, June 18.—(P)—New anti-subsidy legislation backed by farm organizations today joined a parade of congressional proposals aimed at thwarting administration plans to push prices down by paying the difference out of government funds.

A measure was introduced in the house by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) to amend a bill extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) so that the agency's funds would not be used for subsidies. It was supported, he said, by many congressmen.

Meanwhile, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) reported that he is considering submission of an identical provision to the senate CCC bill.

This measure presently contains a direct prohibition against subsidy payments to offset price reductions on food products.

Gillette said the new proposal was supported by the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, the American Farm Bureau, the National Grange and similar groups, which had protested that the government's subsidy program would ruin small producers and reduce output of agricultural commodities.

ELK HILLS OIL DEAL BRANDED AS "ILLEGAL"

Contract Signed Last December With Standard Oil Likened to Teapot Dome Scandal

AUTHORITY IS EXCEEDED

BY TOM REEDY
Washington, June 18.—(P)—A deal between the navy and Standard Oil of California for mutual development of the Elk Hills oil reserves was discarded today as "illegal" and "invalid." Secretary Knox emphasized however that it had been executed ethically and in good faith.

The contract, signed last December, had been criticized sharply in both the house and senate. Rep. Elliott (D-Calif.) whose district includes Elk Hills, said the transaction had "something of the tinge of the Teapot Dome scandal of some years ago."

Decision to terminate the contract was announced by Knox last night after Norman M. Littell, assistant attorney general, told the house public lands committee the navy had exceeded the authority granted it under a five-year-old oil conservation law, and the contract therefore was illegal and void.

Despite Knox's announcement, however, Chairman Peterson (D-Fla.) of the public lands committee, said today his group will continue its investigation. "We want to learn all the facts leading up to the signing of the contract," Peterson asserted, "and we feel it necessary that a sub-committee be appointed to visit the reserve and ascertain conditions necessary for conserving its petroleum contents first hand."

President H. S. Collier of Standard Oil of California said the agreement "was fair to both parties and was in the public interest."

He declared the company was anxious to cooperate with the navy "in every way possible in serving the best interests of our country."

First complaint about the contract was made in the house May 21 by Rep. Voorhis (D-Calif.) who said it would have given the company exclusive rights and privileges of developing the reserve, and that competitors would be "shut out" of opportunity in the field.

Senator Langer (R-ND) in a senate speech last week declared the navy was "signing away" special rights to the oil company and that the interior and justice departments were "shocked" by the terms.

The agreement provided for operation of the field as a unit owned in part by the navy and in part by the company. Knox said the terms would have enabled the navy to control production or shut down the output altogether, if necessary.

Knox declared there was nothing secret about the contract; that it was announced last December and described in trade journals.

"Decisive Budget" Called Largest In History Of Nation

Boosts to Almost $200,000,000 War Department's Funds Since July 1, 1940, For Total of $400,000,000,000

TO BLACKEN ENEMY SKIES WITH WARPLANES

By the Associated Press
Washington, June 18.—The house appropriations committee fired a financial broadside at the Axis today, sending to the floor a $71,510,438,873 War Department supply bill to equip and maintain an army of 7,500,000 enlisted men and blacken enemy skies with warplanes by the end of the year.

Largest appropriation bill in history, it boosted to almost $200,000,000,000 the War Department's funds since July 1, 1940, and to an estimated $400,000,000,000 the outlay for defense and war purposes since that date. And all the money carried in the bill, army officials said, will be spent or obligated during the 12 months starting July 1.

"The decisive budget" was the label given the measure by Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, during hearings on the bill. "These decisive dollars will be translated into decisive strategic and tactical plans."

Commenting that the bill carried more than three times the total outlay of the War Department during the entire first World War, the committee said it was "determined that the armed forces shall have every dollar essential for the early attainment of an unconditional surrender by all of the Axis powers."

It shaved only $387,986,827 from budget estimates, and left untouched the $23,655,481,000 estimate for the air corps.

None of the high army officials who testified during the committee's hearings hazarded a guess as to how long it would take to deliver the knockout blow to the Axis, but all were agreed no stone would be left unturned to expedite the day of reckoning.

Throughout the 589-page record of the hearings there were notations of confidential testimony stricken out.

The funds provided—$59,037,599,673 in new appropriations and $12,472,839,200 of previous funds continued available—will, General McNarney told the committee, do this:

Provide a fighting air force of 273 groups and 3,000,000 ground troops, 36,000 bombers, 35,000 fighters, 12,000 transport planes and 9,000 training planes, with spare engines and parts to keep them in action.

Furnish combat divisions with enough ammunition, tanks, small arms, cannon, combat vehicles and other equipment "to enable us to come to grips with and destroy the enemy."

Permit the maintenance of more than 900 airfields, 4,500 army posts and 700,000 hospital beds, and provide for internment camps for 325,000 war prisoners.

AXIS INSISTS CONTINENT IS INVULNERABLE

Broadcasters Glibly Brag About Own Plans to Repel Any Attempts of Enemy Landings

GOEBBELS RAPS CRITICS

BULLETIN
London, June 18.—(P)—Reuters said today a rumor of an Allied invasion of Sicily has swept the Italian town of Tolmino, in the Julian Alps near the Austrian frontier, and the garrison rushed into the streets "to welcome the end of the war."

London, June 18.—(P)—Invasion-conscious Axis broadcasters continued today to talk at some length about great concentrations of Allied forces in the Mediterranean area and glibly bragged about their own plans to repel any landing attempts.

The Berlin radio quoted German Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels as writing in Das Reich that "Germany looked forward with imperturbability to the impending storm from the west."

His editorial ordered "our noisy critics" to keep quiet and argued that Germany's early successes gave her the opportunity to expand her war potential in time.

The Berlin radio also said that Goebbels spoke today at a mourning service for victims of the raid on Wuppertal.

Pact Governing Treatment of Prisoners Is Being Observed

ANOTHER VICTIM OF BUS-TROLLEY CRASH

Pittsburgh, June 18.—(P)—The death toll in the crash of a Philadelphia-Pittsburgh Greyhound bus and a street car here early Monday was raised to three with the death late last night of Vincent Varacalli, 47, of Slipkirk, Westmoreland county.

He died in Shadyside hospital, where his right leg was amputated two days ago.

Twenty-four of the 68 persons injured in the crash still were hospitalized today.

Testimony on Gas Warfare

Washington, June 18.—(P)—The avowed intention of the Allies to retaliate in kind if the enemy uses gas was emphasized today as a house appropriations subcommittee stamped its seal of approval on army plans to spend $1,152,490,000 on its chemical warfare arm. As they okayed a new appropriation of $340,025,000 plus re-appropriations of $812,474,000 after hearing secret testimony from top officials of the Chemical Warfare Service, the members declared they hoped that none of the Axis powers would resort to that type of warfare.

The committee issued its report after hearing Major General William M. Porter, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, testify that the estimate for funds was "based on presently existing plans, using all information, friendly and enemy. However, as the war develops, the amount of funds required may suddenly change."

BUS DRIVERS END STRIKE

McKeesport, June 18.—(P)—Transportation returned to normal in McKeesport today after a four-day walkout of 50 bus drivers of the Penn Transit Company.

Small Arms School Stages Army Shoot

Important news for a number of soon-to-be-soldiers is contained in announcement that all those who have completed their basic training in the small arms firing school being conducted by the Warren Rifle Club and the Complanter Gun Club are eligible to participate in an outdoor shoot for firing the Army "E" qualifying course on Sunday.

The time is ten o'clock and the shoot will be held on the Cornplanter range on the Page Hollow Road. A similar shoot will take place there on the following Sunday, June 27, beginning at 1 p. m. Those attempting to qualify will fire at 100 yards, with 10 shots slow fire in prone position and 5 shots slow fire in both kneeling and sitting positions; 10 shots rapid fire in both prone and sitting positions.

Those meriting scores between 130-160 will qualify for marksman's medal; between 160-180, sharpshooter's medal; between 180-200, expert.

Those eligible are reminded that an Office of Price Administration ruling permits driving of cars to the scene of the range for these official army qualifications.

Donald Weiss led those shooting their qualifying scores on the armory range last night, with 266 out of a possible 350. Other scores were as follows: Waldemar Gernberg, 264; Arnold Hagberg, 250; Teddy Maniakas, 244; W. Boyd, 240; Robert Hedberg, 235; Gerald DeLong, 232; Richard Thompson, 214; Donald Dumond, 206; John Shanshala, 205.

Besides the shooting at the armory last night, registrations were taken for the school to be started next Tuesday night.

Delayed Collections Of Tin To Be Made

Residents of Clarendon, Weldbank, Sheffield and points in between who had tin to be donated to the salvage collection Wednesday and Thursday are requested not to be too impatient. Collectors will be around to gather it up, probably before this appears in print.

The Salvage Committee announced today that because of an acute shortage of help and trucks, it was impossible to make collection as scheduled. However, the committee is very anxious to secure all tin available and it will be called for.

Germany's latest twin-engine fighter has an increased armament and bomb load instead of top speed and climb.

While many of its features, like the fin, are vastly improved, the basic design of the Flying Fortress is the same today as it was eight years ago.

CONSIDERING INVITATION

The Struthers-Wells Navy band has been invited to head one of the divisions in the big Jamestown Fourth of July parade. The band is considering the invitation and will probably accept.

BERRIES ON MARKET

Home grown strawberries are on the market and they sold at 39 cents the quart. They were beautiful berries and had that good old Warren county berry flavor that just can't be equalled by another strawberry in the world. Shortcake and cream is in season.

SIX BURNED AT ERIE

Six men were burned, two seriously, when a tank of oil caught fire last night at the plant of the Perry Furnace Company, manufacturers of pig iron and coke, at Erie. Fire Chief Lawrence P. Scully said something went wrong with a switch which makes and breaks electric contacts in oil, causing the fire.

ROGERS TO SPEAK

Carl Rogers, former member of the Warren Rotary Club and active for many years in the affairs of the Warren County Scout Council, will be guest speaker at Monday's meeting of the Rotary Club, to be held in the YWCA cafeteria. Associated with the government munitions plant at Meadville, Mr. Rogers' topic will be appropriately, "Production of TNT."

HARD STORM REPORTED

The rain storm that dropped a small amount of rain over Warren last evening seemingly traveled up the Allegheny and let go with full force over Onondaga, N. Y. Reports from the upriver town this morning are to the effect that a barn was blown down, wires and telephone poles leveled and other damage done. Several large trees were laid low by the wind.

SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION

That the present Board of County Commissioners is getting this county back onto a most substantial financial basis is evidenced by the fact that during the past four years the road bonds of the county have been reduced in an excellent manner. From January 1940 and up to December 31, 1943 the reduction will amount to $222,000. This is a goodly sum and shows some careful work.

TRAVEL BY AIR

Warren travelers may have an opportunity to travel in helicopters under a plan of the Greyhound Corporation, which announces that it has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to operate planes over present but routes covering some 60,000 miles of highway, using present bus terminals as landing ports. Under the plan, helicopters would follow established bus routes to provide air bus service to some 70,000 persons in cities and towns not served by existing airlines.

HERBERT ROBBINS
Herbert Robbins, 70, passed away at ten o'clock yesterday morning at his home at 10½ East Washington street, in Corry. Mr. Robbins had resided in Corry but a short while, having moved there last March from Sanford, Pa. Born February 11, 1873, at Miller's Station, Pa., the deceased moved to a farm near Sanford at the age of seven. He was a farmer all his life, and had suffered ill health for the last three years. He was a member of the Eldred Grange. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Bessie Robbins; a daughter, Mrs. James Kysor, and two sons, Marley and Harris, all of Corry; and a son, Charles, of Irvine; a sister, Mrs. Clyde Green, of Corry, and a brother, Albert, of Westfield, N. Y. Several grandchildren also survive.

Friends may call at the Bracken-Keating chapel until Sunday noon when the body will be taken to Sanford church for funeral services at two o'clock. Burial will be made in Sanford cemetery.

Daring Year For Football With No Lack of Glamour For Fans To Watch -- Bible

By HAROLD V. RATCLIFF

Austin, Tex., June 18—There will be no danger of over-coaching in college football next season. So says Dana X. Bible, the veteran University of Texas mentor, who takes the view that the boys will not have much time for athletics and "we certainly will not go through long drills on fundamentals."

"There is a big question as to whether the military groups will have time to take part in intercollegiate athletics," he said. "If they do have some free time, we certainly should not use all of it in hard grind. We shall have our practices short, snappy and as interesting as possible."

But he thinks the game will have a lot of color. "You can just about expect anything to happen," Bible commented. "In other words, it will be more or less wide open—rather daring."

He also anticipates good attendance at games played in the thickly-populated areas. "There is plenty of money in circulation and I think these games will be well-attended," he explained. "But there is not going to be the intense interest of other years, and with the people wanting to cooperate in regard to travel and with rationing of gasoline, tires, etc., I don't believe people from a distance will come to the games."

He thinks attendance will hold up at Austin, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth but says: "I would imagine places like College Station (where Texas A. and M. is located) and Fayetteville, Ark., (site of the University of Arkansas) would be pretty hard hit."

Bible definitely believes football should be carried on in wartime. "I don't believe there is any training with the exception of military tactics that prepares a boy more perfectly for the armed forces than a vigorous competitive program," he asserted.

Commenting on the prospective size of squads next fall, he said the schools will get their players from army and navy groups sent back for special courses, from reservists not called to active service, and from boys under the draft age.

An announcement recently from Capt. John J. London, commandant of naval units at the university, indicated that V-12 trainees will be able to participate in football—even on road trips. Capt. London said these trainees may take short out-of-town trips and that leaves may be extended in emergencies or on special conditions.

The Southwest Conference has passed a rule permitting trainees to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

ENGINE DERAILED

A dead engine being hauled by a westbound merchandise freight train was derailed about 5 o'clock this morning between Sheffield and Royston siding. The engine is a heavy one and tore up the track for some distance before the train was stopped. The wrecking crew from Warren was called and placed the engine back on the rails. The Northern Express and Train No. 8970, eastbound, were derailed via Olean and one of the Schauts busses from St. Marys brought passengers for points between Emporium and Warren into this city along with the first class mail for the intervening points. It also carried on the return trip passengers for points between Warren and Emporium.

OPA Gives Information On Securing Ration Book No. 3

Applicants for War Ration Book III cannot now be made to local War Price and Rationing Boards the Office of Price Administration emphasized today. Not until August 1 will local boards accept such applications from persons who failed to apply by mail before June 10, or from persons who did apply but for some reason, do not receive books.

Since the June 10th deadline for mailing applications passed, the OPA explained, local boards have been flooded with requests to be permitted to apply for War Ration Book No. 3. Local boards will not have application forms available until after August 1. Persons will have sufficient time then to procure the new replacement ration book since the book will not be used until late August or early September.

At the same time, the OPA urged persons who mailed applications but fail to receive War Book III not to go to their local boards until after August 1. Some persons who have applied for War Book No. 3, the OPA explained, will not receive it because the information on the application card was illegible or because names or addresses were not set forth on the application card.

Persons who receive War Ration Book III, should not take the book to their local Board to have information filled in on the cover. No board action is necessary, the OPA said. All the holder of a War Ration Book III is required to do upon receiving his book is to write in his address, age, sex, weight, height, occupation and signature in the spaces provided on the cover. No other information or action is necessary.

ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH BUILDING TO BE CELEBRATED

The Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church will hold a special service on Sunday, June 20, in honor of the 40th anniversary of the dedication of the church building.

Points On Point Rationing

CANNED seafoods make such a variety of good warm weather dishes that one can scarcely have too many recipes for them. Sardines are low in point value and can be utilized for main dishes, in salads, sandwiches and hors d'oeuvres.

As sardines are packed in oil, one also gains additional fat, which can be used in their preparation.

Miss Isabel Young, director of the home economics division of the American Can Company, has a suggestion this week as to how to use sardines and make them go as far as possible. Here it is:

Sardines With Noodle Polonaise
1 8-oz. can Sardines 1½ cups uncooked Noodles
1 can Tomato Sauce ¼ teaspoon Salt
1 cup Fresh Bread Crumbs

Cook noodles in boiling salted water, according to directions on the package. Empty sardines and sauce into saucepan; heat for about 10 minutes until thoroughly hot. Pour oil from sardines in saucepan; add bread crumbs and saute until brown; add to drained noodles and toss together. Spread noodles on a warmed serving platter, sprinkle with salt, and arrange sardines on top. Serve with additional tomato sauce or chili sauce if desired. 4-6 Servings.

SUNDAY—DAD'S DAY

Father's Day, which will be observed nationally on Sunday, is dedicated this year to the "fighting Americans"—our dads. Whether they be at the "home front" as soldiers manning the production lines or are the fathers serving with the armed forces, they will be looking forward to those little gifts and greeting cards as a reminder that they rest secure in the love and admiration of their children.

Father's Day was launched 33 years ago by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash. Inspired by the love and sacrifices of her dad, a Civil War veteran, who raised his motherless family of six on a farm in eastern Washington, Mrs. Dodd, then a young wife and mother, wrote a letter to the Spokane Ministers Alliance proposing the idea for a special day to honor fathers.

Together, the Ministers Alliance and the YMCA of Spokane helped put the Father's Day idea into active motion and Spokane in 1910 was the first city to set aside a day to honor fathers. Interest in the event spread throughout the country and Mrs. Dodd was showered with greetings complimenting her upon her inspiration.

By the following year the occasion had gained such impetus that state legislatures and municipal officials throughout the nation gave their formal endorsement to Father's Day celebrations held in their states and cities.

Children wore roses as remembrance; red for the living and white in tribute to the memories of their fathers. Dad was made the center of attention with special visits from their children who brought little gifts of haberdashery and smoking equipment that would appeal to him.

America's children should need little reminder to remember to honor their fathers on Father's Day this year. According to the Father's Day committee the fathers themselves are giving this occasion a special significance with a "billion dollar bond drive" to be supported by the 33,000,000 American fathers during "Father's Bond Month"—May 20 to June 20.

With this shining example being set by fathers, how can their children do other than greet and honor dad on his day—Father's Day?

ABOUT THAT NO. 3 BOOK

According to word received the ruling for the distribution of No. 3 Ration Books, mention of which was made in Monday's issue, has been revised. When distribution of the books is started the identification stub will not be required where there is some one at home to receive the books.

The change in plan, it is understood, was decided upon after postal authorities said ration book distribution would take until Christmas if the carriers had to collect stubs. The mailmen will not leave ration books in a mail box when no member of the family is at home, however, in order to prevent theft. In such cases the books will not be taken back to the post office for later delivery.

If the books are not received by August first, the housewife must take the stubs to her local ration board to obtain them. Those who failed to retain their stubs will be required to go to their respective boards in August, and re-apply for the No. 3 books, and it is emphasized they should not re-apply this time.

Which all sums up to this: If some person is in the home to receive the books, stubs will not be required. If there is no person to accept them from the mail man, then stubs will be needed to secure them at the rationing board.

It is not pleasant for a father and mother to lose a child. It is one of the tragic episodes of mankind, and though repeated daily, no device has ever been attained to ease the sorrow by one iota. But in losing a child, there is some satisfaction in knowing the body has been recovered. Today the Kline family had that sense of satisfaction with the news that their son, drowned in the high waters of the Allegheny April 22, had been found. The sympathy of the entire community is extended the bereaved family.

Many motorists have already found out that the police department means business in its drive to curb speeding in the borough. Better idle down!

Looks like Warren's Independence Day celebration will be confined to picnic lunches either in a park or the back yard.

Good way to observe Father's Day is to attend worship once.

Can Horatius Hold the Bridge?

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Every time the Administration reshuffles the cards (and not since the appointment of Secretaries of War Stimson and Navy Knox has it done much more than that) the question is where in the wartime deck will the next honors show up.

When the President established the Office of War Mobilization, it was conceded here that it was no more than a reshuffle of the same old deck—with one possible exception. That exception was, of course, Justice Fred M. Vinson, of the District of Columbia court of appeals. "Why Vinson?" asked a lot of observers. The answer is easy.

Vinson, as a member of the special court to hear price-fixing appeals (he was appointed by Chief Justice Stone) made judicial history with his opinion holding that a Brooklyn bank couldn't put the rental on safety deposit boxes.

ALTHOUGH he admitted that the Price Control Act was "a breath-taking legislative departure from our peacetime economic policy," he hewed to the letter of the law. He went further. He admitted that the rental on safety deposit boxes was "a milligram weight" in the balance of the cost of living, but he opined that only by holding down these "minute quanta" could the catastrophe of inflation be averted.

That opinion alone was enough to endear him to the Administration and earn him the appointment of director of economic stabilization. If his predecessor, James E. Byrnes, is right (and Byrnes certainly had a hand in drawing up the OWM executive order), Vinson's job will continue to be one of a court of appeals in all matters affecting the nation's home-front economics.

In the days that come and the developments that come in Congress and in OWM, there are some things to remember about Fred M. Vinson. When he resigned from the House of Representatives in 1938 to accept the post on the District Appeals Court (which some jurists consider second only to the U. S. Supreme Court in prestige and authority), he was chairman of the House Ways and Means subcommittee handling taxation.

ALTHOUGH it is customary in both Houses of Congress to give departing members a laudatory ovation, the one handed Vinson was close to tops. It was climaxed when the late Speaker Bankhead stepped down from the dais to tell the House that Vinson had the keenest analytical mind that had ever been his experience to come in contact with. Vinson knows the House, the Senate—and Taxation.

Although he is almost painfully serious, there is nothing stand-offish or unapproachable about him. He is almost vicious in his attack on work. Whenever he gets started on a vexing problem, meals, sleep, recreation (mostly bridge) and social contacts go by the board. Perhaps this is habit. When he was a student at Centre College, Danville, Ky., he was college librarian, student instructor, star shortstop on the baseball team, quarterback on the football team and the school's pride and joy in mathematics and Latin.

He is a 53-year-old native of Louisa, Ky., and his political rise was more or less routine. He was city attorney, Commonwealth (district) attorney, member of the House of Representatives (in 1924).

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Julien Duvivier is the man who makes four or five movies in one. It is a very thing business, he says, and he is going to take a rest from it. His next movie will be just one movie.

Duvivier is a bright-eyed, neat little Frenchman who drapes his words with gestures. He has that old Gallic charm you read about, that lively interest in things and people and good food and wines. He began his multiple-movie career with "Un Carnet de Bal" back in France. That told many stories, each stemming from a name on a young lady's dance program. When Hollywood got him, he was the first thought for the many-talented "Tales of Manhattan," and from there he went on to the four-storied "For All We Know." This used to be called "Flesh and Fantasy," and its making sprang from Duvivier's association with Charles Boyer as a star of "Tales." Boyer was eager to get started as a producer, and that was their first choice.

"FOR ALL WE KNOW's" four tales all suggest more or less supernatural influences, dealing with "forces" that rule human lives. Duvivier will tell you that he is not superstitious—"oh, not at all,"—but he will also tell you, with gestures, "what I myself know in my own experience." He will tell you that he draws no conclusions, he merely wonders. Afterward, it is easy to understand why he would turn his camera to a story of mysterious forces.

It began 10 years ago (he says) when an old friend of his, a charming, aged French actor named Camille Beuve, offered to cast Duvivier's horoscope. He returned with a sheet of paper detailing various events which would mark the director's coming year.

"You put it in a drawer, and at year's end look at it again," said Beuve. Which Duvivier did. At year's end, he says, he was surprised to discover that its predictions had materialized.

Year after year, Camille Beuve wrote out a Duvivier forecast, and year after year the director checked with increasing interest. There was one year when the old actor predicted a "big sum of money"—it turned into a windfall of a million francs, from some forgotten stock.

"AND match this," says unsuspicious Duvivier. "In the spring of 1940 I was making a war propaganda film in Paris. Camille said it would not be 'timely' when released. How right he was! At the time also, the government assigned me to go to Italy to confer about a film there—to boost French-Italian friendship. Camille said I would never make it, that I would go to Spain instead, and thence to America. I said that was preposterous. And so, in June, Italy made war on France. France fell, and I was escaping to America—across Spain!"

Since then, Duvivier has not heard from Camille Beuve, so he goes through life not "knowing" what is ahead. Camille would come in handy right now, he says, with a proper title for Duvivier's next movie, about the Fighting French, in which Jean Gabin will star.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

Forest Supervisor L. L. Bishop announced today that 3316 acres will be added to the Allegheny National Forest as the Department of Agriculture has given its consent to additional purchases.

Paul Cleveland, an Erie violinist will play several selections at the meeting of the Oil Creek Baptist Mission group at the local church this evening.

Thus far there has been no agitation for a Fourth of July celebration in Warren. Several other towns in this section have their plans well under way.

Miss Gertrude Bettles one of the city's popular teachers will spend her vacation on a trip to the west coast. A number of friends were at the station today to bid her farewell.

Fishermen with jack-lights and spears have been getting some big suckers in the creek during the past few days. A number of bass have been hit at various times but these have been turned over to the warden and disposed of.

In 1933

Rolling Thunder, an interesting Indian Chief from Benus Point was a speaker at the Evangelical church last evening. He spoke on Indian civilization and there was a large crowd to hear him.

One hundred bark peelers have been called for by the Pennsylvania Lumber Company to go into the woods this summer. The men make good wages and this amount of money will be welcomed in the Sheffield district.

The Glade bridge will be closed after Sunday until repairs have been completed. The plans call for the rebuilding of the bridge into a wider and heavier structure to care for the increased travel that uses it.

Hundreds of Legion men from this section will attend the rally tonight in Corry. A delegation of from 30 to 50 from this city will attend.

The severe heat wave that has been assailing this section for some time past was broken by a severe electrical storm with an accompaniment of heavy rain that swept over Warren last night.

America's Top Dads of '43

These are the 10 outstanding American fathers of 1943, as selected by the National Father's Day Committee. No. 1 is General Dwight D. Eisenhower, hero of the African invasion. The others, in case you don't recognize them, are: (2) Nelson Rockefeller, coordinator of Inter-American Affairs; (3) Lt. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota; (4) Henry J. Kaiser, shipbuilder; (5) Irving Berlin, song writer; (6) Norman Rockwell, artist; (7) Harold L. Ickes, many-titled man of Washington; (8) Elmer Davis, OWI chief; (9) General George C. Marshall; (10) Upton Sinclair, Pulitzer prize novelist.

Course in State Assistance Corps Finished By 21 Women

Twenty-one Warren women have recently completed the required course provided by the American Red Cross and will receive staff assistance corps membership certificates.

The course was organized and conducted by Mrs. Allison D. Wade, chairman of the staff assistance corps, assisted by Mrs. Harry Thurn, vice chairman, and Mrs. R. W. Steber, production chairman. Those who completed this volunteer special training are: Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Mrs. H. L. Banghart, Mrs. David Beaty, Mrs. Robert Capell, Mrs. Floyd Clinger, Mrs. W. H. Cowden, Mrs. R. L. Blodgett, Mrs. Holgar Elmquist, Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, Mrs. Donald Morgan, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mrs. William Crosssett, Mrs. A. H. Templeton, Mrs. William Jaeger, Mrs. Harry Thurn, Miss Ann DeFrees, Mrs. H. M. Boyd, Mrs. George Wholeben, Mrs. R. W. Steber and Mrs. Allison D. Wade.

The purpose of the staff assistance corps training is to familiarize desk workers with the various activities of the Red Cross and to provide a staff trained to do clerical, secretarial and administrative work that is a necessary part of the regular functioning of the local Red Cross endeavor. Twenty hours of lecture attendance and practice in office routines make up the requirements of the staff assistance corps.

A series of ten lectures was arranged for June with the final tests on June 16. Each lecture, presenting vital facts about many Red Cross activities, was conducted as follows: Volunteer Special Services, Mrs. R. W. Steber; Junior League, Mrs. Harry Thurn; Nutrition, Miss Aileen Schurr; Home Service, Miss Helen Lauffenberger;

Home Nursing, Mrs. Holgar Elmquist; Nurses' Aide, Mrs. William Lutz; First Aid, Mrs. Harold Smith; Red Cross Organization and Service Overseas, Mr. C. J. Clary; Bell Telephone Movie and Lecture, Mr. Springer and Mr. Westcott; Disaster Relief, Mr. C. C. Winans; Blood Bank, Mrs. H. L. Banghart.

"NOTICE. The annual meeting of the Warren County Chapter of American Red Cross will be held at the Chapter Headquarters 404 Market Street, Warren, Pennsylvania Monday evening, June 21st at 7:30 P. M. for the purpose of electing members of the Executive Board to fill the places of those whose terms have expired; for considering amendments to the By-laws of the Chapter; for the consideration of reports and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

W. S. Clark, Secretary." June 14-18-21

Warren Girl Given Degree At University

Friends here will be interested to learn that Jean A. Anderson, formerly of Warren and now residing at 940 Oakland avenue, Akron, O., was graduated June 14 from Kent State University at Kent, O., where she received her bachelor of science degree in education.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Anderson, 1313 Pennsylvania avenue, west, Miss Jean was graduated from the local high school in 1939.

The Andersons went to Kent for the commencement festivities and report the processional to the exercises was something very out of the ordinary, 500 cadets lining up to form a path through which the graduates marched. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, of Christ church in New York City, delivered the commencement address.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson state it "was a grand and glorious feeling to be present and see their daughter graduated." Miss Jean has accepted a position with the B. F. Goodrich Company in Akron.

Insurance Firm Gives Lesser Medal

Mr. B. V. Lesser, well known insurance man of Warren Bank & Trust Co. Bldg., Warren, Pennsylvania, who represents the American Eagle Fire Insurance Company, a member company of the America Fire Insurance and Indemnity Group, has just been presented with the company's gold medal in token of more than twenty five years' representation.

The face of the medal bears the insignia of the company and the back is suitably engraved with Mr. Lesser's name and company affiliation date.

The medal was given by Special Agent C. M. Berlin, field man for the company and accompanied by a letter from President Bernard M. Culver, which said:

"It is with great pleasure that I and my associates welcome you into the 'Old Guard' that Association of local agents and company employees who have been connected with the companies of the America Fire Group for over twenty five years.

"Our Company has grown and prospered greatly during the period of your association with us, and we wish to acknowledge your contribution to this success.

"We thank you for your loyalty, and sincerely trust that your splendid representation of this company will continue for many years to come."

Chapter 11

ANN could see the gleam of brass buttons when Jerry put the will into the pocket of his tunic. She could see the amazed expression on his face when the light happened to shine upward. He shaded his flash with his hand again as he made his way unobtrusively to the door, stepped through.

She heard the click of the latch when it fell into place behind him. Pushing the drapery away from her, she followed quickly after him. There was no need for her to look further. Jerry had the will.

She managed the opening and closing of the door. Then, safe in the hall, she looked to the right and the left. He was nowhere in sight.

Her first impulse was to go directly to his room, demand to see the will and get the whole affair settled tonight. But when she remembered that it was fairly late even for the future proprietor of the hotel to be visiting a young man's room, she decided to wait until morning.

Thinking he had been undetected, she would enjoy making the surprise announcement himself. For of course he would make the announcement. No matter what she had said to him about his designs on Terrence House she had never really believed he would take what belonged to him but he wouldn't rob her.

No, in the morning he would show the will to all of them and her troubles would be over.

She went to bed confident that tomorrow her grandmother's house would be hers in reality.

SHE rehearsed the apologies she would make to Jerry, the demureness with which she would receive the news that she had won the undeclared war between them.

"We'll get Terrence House all right," she confided to Matilda when she returned to her room. The bird responded by an affectionate peck on her fingers. "It's going to be ours at last."

But Friday morning Ann wasn't so sure. The forenoon passed without Jerry coming to her. Neither did Mr. Baxton send for her. Then at 12 o'clock the business of the Masons came up.

She was sitting in the lobby when the door opened and a workman entered. He was a little man with the face of a scared rabbit and he hurried across the room to the desk very much as would his animal prototype scurry to a burrow.

"My name's Mason," he said tentatively to Sarah.

"Well? If you've come to do repair work why didn't you report to the back entrance?"

"I... it's not that," he wet his lips with his tongue, tried again.

"Help?" We make it a practice to refuse charity. There are organizations for that purpose and I advise you to apply to one of them." She returned to her work at the desk.

"I mean... I came to get help for my wife."

"It's all the same," she said. "She's down sick and the doctor..." He waited for Sarah to give him her attention again but she ignored him.

"You got a doctor here?" he asked her.

She looked up at him now but her green eyes tightened with her lips. "You'll have to go some place else."

Ann mentally cringed. If the man were in trouble, some one should help him. Knowing that she would win nothing but the nurse's disfavor she walked quickly to him.

"Perhaps I can do something," she said.

"Oh, would you, miss?" he said gratefully. "You see the plant doctor's busy and he said if some body from here could help until."

"Of course, I'll see if we can get Dr. Renfrow for you."

SARAH jumped up. "Dr. Renfrow is the staff physician. He takes no other cases."

But he did, all the time. Obviously Sarah meant he didn't take cases like the Mason's.

"We might let him decide that," said Ann levelly.

"Well, we'll see!" Her voice was brittle enough to break. She gave Bert's number to the operator.

"There's a case here, Doctor," she said sulkily. "I've explained you don't take outside cases but they insist you be called." She listened a minute. "A laborer." Then, "Oh, yes, charity. No, I was sure you wouldn't. Thank you, Doctor."

She turned back to Ann. "He can't help you."

Ann made no immediate reply. She had heard enough to know that Bert was refusing. No wonder with the picture Sarah painted to him. But still, even if it were a charity case, didn't all doctors do some charity?

"Where are you living?" she asked him.

"In the trailer camp."

"Then you're a defense worker."

He nodded. "Got to get back to the job now. My wife, I guess she's got the flu."

Then she needs nursing as much as she needs a doctor.

"She sure does. The little one, too."

"The little one? A baby?"

"Bout three months old."

Ann risked Sarah's fury again to ask, "Do you know of a nurse this man could employ?"

"I should say not," she bit the words in two. "No nurse in the world would go to that filthy camp."

"I'll go myself," Ann said steadily.

Personal Paragraphs

Billy Erickson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Erickson, 8 Dahl street, is reported doing satisfactorily after submitting to an operation at the Bashline-Rossman hospital in Grove City.

"Bill" Morrison, who is serving with Uncle Sam's forces in Alaska has remembered a number of his friends in the city with souvenirs from that place. Deskman Ray Eckhart at the police station received a nifty cigarette lighter shaped like a totem pole with some grotesque figure emblazoned on one side.

Rev. W. T. Vandever, of the First Baptist church of Erie, will preach at the worship service at the local church of that denomination at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Edward Leon Korb, who has just enlisted in the United States Navy, Class V-12, has been ordered to report July 1 to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in Cambridge, for study under the war training program. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Korb, Willoughby avenue, and a member of this year's high school graduating class.

Mrs. John Hedges, who is the former Virginia Tibbott, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Warren General Hospital and is now reported recuperating satisfactorily at her home.

Donald N., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Haggerty, of Sugar Grove has been given an appointment by Congressman Leon Gavin, of the 20th Congressional District to Annapolis. He left Tuesday to receive his physical examination. He graduated from the Sugar Grove Joint Vocational High school in the 1942 class and received nine months special training at the Randel School in Washington, D. C.

Richard "Dick" Hartley, of Youngsville, was a visitor in Warren today. Mr. Hartley is one of the best known men in the county having served as a county auditor; is one of the state's oldest Grange members and one of the oldest members of the Masonic lodges in this state, proudly wearing a 30 year award for his Masonic service.

"Bill" Berry, who has been ill for some time and who spent several weeks at the Aspinwall Veterans Hospital, has recovered sufficiently to reopen his barber shop. On Sunday he will have operated a shop in the same location below the Carver House for 33 years.

James H. Spies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spies, 126 Frank street, has received an honorable discharge from the United States Coast Guards following two years of active service.

Mrs. Charles Sechrist, R. D. 3, is leaving Wednesday to visit her parents in Detroit, Mich.

Harry Streich, of Kane was called to Warren yesterday by the serious illness of Mrs. Edward Check.

Calvin Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Lawson, and member of the 1943 graduating class, has been accepted by the U. S. Marine Corps and expects assignment orders in about two weeks.

Mrs. Agnes Garfield, of Conneautville, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Brown.

That history does repeat itself was evidenced yesterday when C. W. Beckley arrived at work riding a bicycle. Forty years ago he rode a bike to and from his home and frequently while on repair jobs balanced a ladder as he rode with a kit of electrical tools over his back. This gas shortage is making the bike more and more useful to local folk.

Clifford Lindberg was calling on friends in town Tuesday enroute to his home on Yankee Bush. He is now in U. S. service with his present address P.O. Box 100, Southworth Station, Philadelphia, Pa. He had only a three days leave for his trip home.

YOUNGVILLE

Youngsville, June 18—The children of the community seem to enjoy the summer of the year. Rainy weather has interrupted some of the fun but so far the project seems a real success.

The directors are planning now to arrange the program so that pupils, who next week and the week after, attend the Union Vocational Bible School in the United Brethren Church school, will not miss any of sport periods.

Several days ago Mrs. Bessie Harrington incoming down stairs fell two steps and injured some ribs and her wrist. She is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Roy Lightner has her mother, Mrs. Rodgers from Pittsfield with her who was in an auto accident. She got some cuts on her head and face, but she hopes to be well soon.

Mrs. Claud Miller returned home last evening after spending a few days with relatives in Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Long, of Port Allegany, came yesterday to visit their mother, Mrs. Bessie Walters. Mr. Long went to Erie this morning and Mrs. Long will remain for a few days.

NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received by M. L. Dougherty, Secretary of the Borough Council of the Borough of Warren, at the Municipal Building, Warren, Pennsylvania, until 7:30 o'clock P. M. E. W. T. Tuesday, July 6, 1943, at which time and place said sealed proposals will be publicly opened and read, for the furnishing of labor and materials, or either of them, in connection with the erection of the one-story Fire Station Building of said Borough upon the Borough's lot on the south side of Pennsylvania Avenue West between Fine Street and Walnut Street, each bid or proposal to be separate for each of the following items:

- Bids for furnishing the materials and labor for installing the heating apparatus.
- Bids for furnishing the labor and material and installing the electrical wiring and lighting equipment.
- Bids for furnishing the labor and materials and installing the plumbing.
- Bids for furnishing the labor and materials and laying and completing the roof.
- Bids for furnishing the skilled labor to lay all of the cinder blocks and brickwork above the foundation.

Bids must be made separate upon each of the above items, and must be to furnish the labor and materials, or either of them, in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by and now on file with the Borough Engineer in said Municipal Building.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Borough Engineer upon depositing with him $2.00, which will be returned upon receipt of the plans and specifications.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of not less than 10% of the amount of the proposal, drawn in favor of Warren Borough. The amount of said check is the measure of liquidated damages which will be sustained by the Borough by failure of the bidder to execute the proper agreement and bonds within 5 days following award of contract.

The Borough reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.

An Instructor
In Gas School

Warren county is to be represented at a gas specialists' school for the Eighth Region to be held at Strong-Vincent High School in Erie June 21, 22 and 23 under the War Department's civilian protection program. It is learned today, Lt. Victor VerMilyea, senior gas officer of Warren county, will attend the school and, moreover, will act as one of the instructors. Working schedules and a number of other factors will determine others who will attend from here. The course is being offered for the instruction of senior gas officers, reconnaissance officers or agents, decontamination squads and other civilian defense units interested in under the supervision of Christian L. Siebert, state gas consultant.

Instruction is to be given on chemical warfare agents, with gas mask lectures and drills, methods of decontaminating areas and foods. There will be field identification of actual warfare gasses and gas chamber exercises, all of these phases to be supplemented with sound movies.

"Here we go 'round the mulberry bush" might be the theme for today's highlight of the Girl Reserve stay-at-home summer camp at the YWCA activities building, since a treasure hunt took the girls in and out and all around the block in their search for the hidden articles. A bicycle-hike beyond Oakview Park was one of features of Thursday's program, the girls stopping off at Oakview en route home and reporting a very good time. The remainder of the day was spent informally with classes, singing and various games.

Elks and Forge "Jinx" Game Holds Spotlight In Warren 6:15 Tonite

At this writing the weather looks fair enough to get off that long anticipated Elks-Forge game, but to date, the tilt has been moved up the schedule some any times it has begun to look like it would never be played.

In their first game the Elks surprised everybody in town by smashing the Struthers-Wells strong defense and took a 6 to 2 decision behind the masterful elbowed Jimmy Urbanski, but they haven't played since.

Cronin Hits Homers in Two Games Thursday To Set An Unusual Record at The Bat

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer Joseph Edward Cronin, the stylish scout manager of the Boston Red Sox, will have a new story to tell the soldiers and sailors overseas if he makes another journey abroad for the Red Cross next winter.

The boys will want to hear again about the time that the Philadelphia Athletics came to Boston for a five-game series during which Cronin, 36-year-old and round as a marriage balloon, made four appearances as a pinchhitter and produced three home runs, every one with two teammates aboard.

Cronin will start his story with that doubleheader on June 15, a Tuesday. His Red Sox lost both games, but the Red checked Irishman, whose batting average was around .200 for his few previous appearances, brightened the first game by parking one of Lum Harris' knuckleball pitches in the stand in the seventh inning. He couldn't repeat in the second game.

stands to tie the score, and the Sox went on to a 5-4 victory. In the second game the A's were winning 8-4 when Cronin came up against Rookie Don Black in the eighth inning with Bobby Doerr and Newsome on base. It was the same story, except that Boston didn't get any more runs and the A's won the second game 8-7.

Winning the nightcap lifted the A's into third place in the American League because Detroit dropped a twilight-night doubleheader to the Cleveland Indians 3-2 and 6-5, the second game going 12 innings. Relief pitcher Mike Nymick received credit for both victories with Manager Lou Boudreau driving in the deciding run with a ninth-inning single in the first game and scoring the winning run in the second session.

The New York Yankees were given 9-5 decision over the Washington Senators in a ragged game in which the winning run was forced across on a walk by Early Wynn with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Luke Appling enabled the Chicago White Sox to nose out the St. Louis Browns 4-3 in 13 innings. He doubled for two runs to tie the score in the ninth and singled home the winning run four frames later.

Cincinnati set down the St. Louis Cardinals 6-1 and moved

Pro Football Moguls Will Hold Meeting

By DAVE HOFF Chicago, June 18.—(P)—Commissioner Elmer Layden may lapse into his old coaching mood when the National Football League owners assemble tomorrow for their special two-day meeting. And if he does, the bosses will be in for a rousing college pep talk.

Layden has undergone all the phases of this football business—as a member of Notre Dame's "four horsemen" in the 1920's and later as Irish coach. Commissioner of professional football and president of the National League since 1941, he's never faced a task such as the one which confronts him tomorrow and Sunday.

Layden believes if pro football should quit now, while there still are sufficient players to go around, it would not be playing square with the fans who gave it such popularity in peace time.

"Gold-darn it," he exploded today, using his most forceful expletive, "we know we make a definite contribution to the country's recreation in normal times. Why can't we make the same kind of a contribution during the war?"

Forgers To Do Iron Man Stunt Sunday

Sunday the National Forge baseball team will do an Iron Man stunt and play two different teams at Russell Field. The Struthers-Wells and Elks will both face the Forgers and from all indications the crowd will be a record breaker, as the drawing power of the three teams is no plus ultra.

Such an afternoon of baseball will give the fans a rare treat as it is not often that such a booking is made. However, the weather man has a finger in the pie and he certainly drew out a plume. Now he will only keep the clouds away and turn on the sunshine fans will see an afternoon of baseball such as they haven't peeked at since Honus Wagner was a pup.

All three of the teams are at peak form and the Forge has a job cut out for its diamond sparklers when they turn loose. Neither of the two opponents are to be sneezed at when it comes to baseball and those who fail to see this galaxy of stars aglitter will long regret it.

Gustine Looks Like On Verge of Stardom

Pittsburgh, June 18.—(P)—Is Frankie Gustine of the Pittsburgh Pirates on the verge of baseball stardom?

His manager, Frankie Frisch predicted it long ago, and the way the second sacker has been pounding the stuffing out of that victory ball lately makes it look like maybe Frisch was right.

Shaking off a four-year injury jinx, Gustine climbed out of nowhere by smacking out 28 hits in 62 tries, giving him an average of .340 and third place among the major league batters. Prior to that he had been hitting his customary .250.

"I'm just swinging and I guess the hits are just falling," Gustine said.

He hit safely in 11 of his last 14 games, and is the only Pirate regular in the 300 class.

How long it will last, he doesn't know, but he says he is grateful for a respite from the leg, ankle and finger injuries which had plagued him since he joined the Bucs in 1939.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
New York, June 18.—(P)—Since that celebrated war bond auction of baseball players, the fans have acquired some new material to burn the umpires' ears. . . . Mel Ott contributed a $5,000 double and a $10,000 homer against the Dodgers Tuesday before Larry Goetz chased him out of the game for a two-bit protest. . . . And you can imagine some of the things the patriotic customers called Larry. . . . Charles Ornstein, a bigwig and a local hotelman, refused to have any part of that $1,000 a page advertising in the program for the national track championships, but he bought $150 worth of tickets and sent them to Halloran hospital, where a lot of boys are recuperating from wounds received in North Africa.

Global Thinking?
Question overheard in the marine barracks at the naval operating base, Norfolk Va., during the Beau Jack-Bob Montgomery fight broadcast: "How can the New York state commission rule who is world champion when their part of the world is limited by the boundaries of New York state?" . . . The answer, of course, is that officially the commission only rules whose title claim it will accept, but that carries a lot of weight with guys whose world is limited to west 49th street.

Scrap Collection
Tip: Lew Fonseca, former American League batting champion, says that one reason why the hitters improve after July 4 is that during the hot months the pitchers lose some of their stuff during the late innings while batters seldom tire. . . . Mike Jacobs won't admit he has given up on the afternoon fight idea if he gets a big enough attraction to fill the Polo Grounds or Yankee Stadium. . . . One reason why the NCAA decided to hold the national intercollegiate tennis meet next week, although the field will be mostly midwestern, is that it's the oldest tournament on the list except the national singles and doubles.

Pirates' $75,000 "Lemon" About to Get New Chance

By ARDEN SKIDMORE
Pittsburgh, June 18.—(P)—Johnny Gee, all six feet nine of him, apparently is coming back to the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose $75,000 investment in him in 1939 did not pay off so much as the price of a postage stamp.

"He certainly looks great," commented Manager Frankie Frisch as he watched the southpaw hurler, probably the tallest man in organized baseball, burn 'em over in batting practice.

"It looks very favorable that we will sign him," said Owner William Benswanger. The Pirates have only 24 players, so "Long John," who is on the voluntary retired list, could don a uniform the minute his application for reinstatement was approved and go west with the Bucs next week.

Deferred in the draft because of his height, the University of Michigan graduate would be "a welcome addition to the hurling staff," in the words of Benswanger, particularly since the induction of Pitchers Johnny Lanning and Jack Hallett is imminent.

Johnny first came to the Pirates after winning 20 games—including five shutouts and a one-hitter—for Syracuse of the International League in 1939.

His big league debut late that season was spoiled by his teammates' eight errors, but the club expected great deeds from their expensive rookie in 1940.

Then in spring practice he strained his arm. Sent to Portland in 1941, he pitched only 13 innings before he was returned to Syracuse.

There were 16,901 spectators at the Aqueduct races yesterday and they bet $1,503,135 on eight races. . . . Also in the crowd was this columnist, who did not see any horses racing that looked as good as those ridden by the red-coated outriders.

Wet Grounds Cancel Game
The long looked for game in the Y. M. C. A. Church Softball league, which had been scheduled for last evening, had to be set aside because of wet grounds. This was a disappointment to many who have been anxiously waiting to see whether it will be St. Joseph's Grace M. E. that will be ranking first.

The fray now automatically goes to next Wednesday which is the only open rain date available.

Tonight, weather permitting, the rained out game between First Baptist and First M. E. which should have been played Tuesday night will be staged.

Western Pa. Tournament
Pittsburgh, June 18.—(P)—Seminarians of the Western Pennsylvania Junior Golf championship tournament were under way today with the defending champion, a dark horse and two of the pre-tournament favorites still in the running.

Charley Manning, Jr., of Sharmoken, last year's winner, defeated Jim Read and Bob Schmidt, St. Clair players, both by 3 and 2 yesterday.

Today Manning is battling the dark horse, stocky 17-year-old Bill Wisner of Beaver, who put out Martin Kovach of Brackenridge Heights, the medalist, 5 and 3, then defeated Jimmy Thomas of Greensburg 3 and 1.

Autos Out As Vacation Trip Travel Mode

Harrisburg, June 18—(AP)—The Harrisburg district OPA office, deluged with inquiries about the use of automobiles for vacation trips, today announced such travel is strictly forbidden under the pleasure driving ban.

David M. Klindinst, chief rationing attorney for the Harrisburg district, said the announcement of the office of defense transportation that vacation travel would be permitted if the vacationists only went to one point, applied only to trains and buses and does not permit use of privately-owned automobiles.

FARM NEWS

CUTWORMS

Cutworms are dull-colored caterpillars that are found tightly coiled at or near the base of plants. Usually they are more numerous in recently plowed land that is weedy or in heavy sod. They feed on plants like cabbage, tomato, and pepper, although any plant with a stalk may be injured. The feeding is done at night. The cutworms eat the stalk of the plant completely through at or just above the ground and the top falls onto the ground nearby.

Cutworms are controlled by placing a small amount of poison bait near each plant after it is planted, explains County Agent O. C. Tritt. If the cutworms are abundant over the entire garden the bait may be scattered thinly over the entire garden. The bait is prepared by mixing 2½ pounds of bran and 2 ounces of Paris green together, then adding to this 1 cupful of cheap molasses which has been diluted in about a half-pint of water. The wet and dry materials should be thoroughly mixed. Enough water should be added to make a moist, crumbly mash.

Wrapping the stalks of the plants with five or six thicknesses of newspaper at planting time will protect the plants from cutworms. The paper strips should be about 3 or 4 inches wide. The bottom of the wraps should be 1 to 2 inches beneath the soil surface. This simple practice is very well suited to gardens where there are only a few cabbages, tomatoes, or similar plants grown.

ROOT MAGGOTS

Cabbage, cauliflower, radish, and similar kinds of plants are seriously damaged, stunted, or entirely destroyed by maggots working in the roots of the plants. A fly lays eggs in the soil near the base of the plants and the maggots hatch from these eggs feed on the roots, causing the plants to die, says County Agent O. C. Tritt.

The damage may be avoided by placing a square or circular disk made of tar roofing paper flat on the ground about the plant. This tar paper disk should be 3 or 4 inches in diameter with a quarter-inch hole in the center for the stem to go through. In addition cut a slit in the disk from the outer edge to the center hole so that it can be slipped on the stalk. In placing the disk, flatten it to the soil surface.

Another standard remedy is to pour a half-cup of corrosive sublimate solution on the soil around each plant 4 or 5 days after the plants are set in the garden or the field. Two more applications should be given at weekly intervals.

The wrapping of the stalks with newspaper strips as suggested for cutworms often give good protection from maggot attacks.

Calomel (3 ounces mixed with 3 pounds of flour or hydrated lime) when dusted on the ground around the plants gives good protection.

Radishes may be protected by growing them under a cheesecloth screen or by treating the ground along the row with the corrosive sublimate solution at the rate of one-half gallon to 15 feet of row.

Seals have short necks and clawed flippers; sea-loans are long necked and with clawless flippers.

Wolverines follow hunters to despoil traps as soon as set.

Deserter From
112 Leaps Off
Moving Train

Warren police on June 26, arrested Emerson Campbell, 20, a deserter from the U. S. armed forces. Campbell was taken in a Warren tap room and a military policeman came to Warren and took the fellow to Pittsburgh. Campbell was originally from a small town in the county but at the time of his arrest his address was given as Reading.

Today Campbell again figures in the news. While he was being taken from Pittsburgh to Camp Pickett, Va., to answer charges of having deserted from Company I, 112th Regiment at Camp Livingston, La., he leaped from a moving train and escaped. Campbell originally served with Company I, 112th Infantry but left this company following some trivial trouble.

Scores of searchers are scouring the vicinity of the B. and O. railroad for 18 miles between Stewartstown and O'Connellsville and feel that the soldier is hiding in the woods as he has left no trace. In a car with a number of other deserters under charge of Sergeant Johnson, of the M. P. Campbell kicked the door open and leaped when the train was rumbling over Indian Creek. Had he landed in the creek the water is so low that any object in the stream is easily seen. Officers summoned to aid in the search can find no tracks anywhere to get a clue to the fellows' whereabouts.

The train was running at a rapid rate and how the man escaped death or serious injury is a problem. His escape and disappearance is seemingly miraculous.

A STRONG ASSOCIATION

MEANS A STRONG

Pennsylvania Oil Industry

THE entire Pennsylvania Oil Region derives pride and profit from the continuous 4-way program of our Association to help producers, refiners and marketers of Pennsylvania Oils:

1. ADVERTISING to tell consumers why Pennsylvania Oils are better oils.
2. RESEARCH to keep Pennsylvania Oils in step with progress in motor design and performance.
3. FIELD WORK to keep sales channels informed and to guard against misrepresentation.
4. LEGAL ACTION against those who would trade falsely on the good name of Pennsylvania Oils and our Emblem.

All add up to a strong Association... and that means a strong Pennsylvania Oil industry... today and tomorrow.

OPA Plans No
New Rationing

Washington, June 18—(AP)—Coal, milk, clothing, and electricity head the list of possible new rationing programs—although perhaps none may ever come to life—officials said today.

Speculation on new programs was heightened by publication of testimony on the Office of Price Administration (OPA) budget, in which funds were asked against the contingency of six more rationing programs that might be necessary during the coming fiscal year starting July 1.

Officials who declined to be quoted asserted positively however that neither these nor any other new rationing programs has been ordered or is expected to be ordered. OPA's fund request was described as a normal budgetary precaution.

heated the water. In spite of the length of time the body had been in the water it was exceptionally well preserved.

The father of the boy was on the road for the R. W. Norris Company and was contacted by telephone by Mr. Norris and he returned to Warren as soon as possible.

The Warren Lodge of Elks had offered a reward of $100 for the parties recovering the body and this will undoubtedly be divided among the four lads of the fishing party who got the body ashore.

Richard Allen Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kline, 25 South Street, was born at Hermitage, N. Y., six years ago. He attended the South street school and was a bright pupil well liked by fellow pupils and teachers. He is survived by his parents and the following brother and sisters, Barbara, Janet, Lois and David, all at home. His two grandmothers, Mrs. Cora Wolfe and Mrs. Anna Kline, both of Warren, also survive.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Oakland cemetery with the Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, officiating.

Owners Must Cut Weeds on Vacant Lots

Warren's police about this time every year observe many of the folks sniffin' and snuffin', sneezin' and coughin' and hustle around to give first aid to the sufferers. Rag weeds, goldenrod and other weeds that send pollen into the nostrils of the Warren folks with hay fever are beginning to do their dirty work. Vacant lots about the city are fairly bursting with a growth of weeds, fattened and coddled by the frequent rains and warm nights, and the decree has gone forth "cut the weeds." It may be tough to make hay while the sun shines but this weed stuff is different and making weed piles is sumpin' else again. So yesterday Motorcycle Officer Park bestrode his Indian and chugged around the town. Five notices were served on lot owners yesterday to get busy and the campaign will be continued until the weeds are all cut and the snuffin' and the snuffin' ceases to bother the folks who like to get a bit of the disfigure from their movies undisturbed by a nasal cacophony.

A Clarion and a Kane man tangled in their automobile near Locust street on Pennsylvania avenue yesterday. One of 'em wanted to turn left and the other never hesitated and, bang, went a couple of fenders. A woman attempted to pull away from the curb in front of the Salvation Army yesterday just as a car came up Pennsylvania avenue. Another bent fender. And this morning on Pennsylvania avenue, east, a truck and a car tangled. More police work.

Three doggies joined the dog-sled choir yesterday after the cops had done their bit with their artillery barrage.

Another evening's effort in the education of local folk relative to the 35 mile an hour speed law was undertaken last night by the police. The boys at the helm of the automobile seem to give not a care relative to gas or speed and one of these evenings a string of red tickets is going to take a batch of nonchalant drivers before Magistrate Greenlund where they will hear him announce "10 and costs."

A raccoon will not eat food until it has carefully washed the morsel.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION NEWS

URGE RURAL FAMILIES TO SET UP SAFETY CODE

Many rural families will have boys and girls from urban districts and cities assisting with food production this year. Most of these young people will be meeting rural life and its duties for the first time. They will be inexperienced in the use and care of the farm and home equipment.

In order to keep accidents at a minimum, every rural individual should do everything possible to acquaint these young people with hazards on the farm, believes Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics extension representative, Warren county. Only by everyone assuming these responsibilities can life and property be conserved.

A safety code in our home will help prevent accidents, she suggests. Accidents just don't happen, they are caused. The most common causes are lack of knowledge of the use of equipment, carelessness, excitement, forgetfulness, negligence, and failure to understand and eliminate the cause.

Everyone must be on the alert, reminded Mrs. Prendergast. Experienced persons can teach others the use and care of equipment, the dangers existing, and how to eliminate as many hazards as possible. Set your goal so that these boys and girls can return to their homes at the end of the season a wiser, healthier, and happier group than when they came at the beginning of the summer.

TIDIOUTE

Tidioute, June 15—On Thursday, June 17, the "Fly to Bookland" Club was organized. The purpose of the club is to stimulate an interest in reading among children of grade school age. When joining the club members are "Future Pilots" after reading five books they are "Student Pilots." Ten books entitles them to become "Licensed Pilots" and when they have read 15 books they become "Drill Pilots." Members will wear appropriate badges to designate the grade reached.

The reading table at the library is decorated to represent an airport. This is creating much interest among the children.

The Junior League of the Methodist church will give a program of the year's work on Children's Day, June 20th at 11 a. m. Sunday.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold its annual picnic tureen supper at the church on Friday, June 18th, at six o'clock. Coffee, rolls furnished. Please bring own table service. Collection for medical missions. In the six months since surgical dressings work has begun 12,250 finished dressings have been delivered to headquarters in Warren. Sixteen women have qualified to wear the Red Cross service pin. This requires a minimum of 30 hours' work. Volunteers for this important work are solicited.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Shaw and sons, of Bradford, spent the weekend visiting F. A. Shaw.

Miss Doris Schlosser, of Loganport, Ind., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Karl Grettenberger.

A postponed meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet with Mrs. Gordon Pickergill Tuesday, June 22nd, for a 6 o'clock dinner. The business session will follow the dinner.

The D. A. R. held its annual picnic at the home of Mrs. C. Myers on Monday afternoon. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed. The hostesses were: Mrs. Myers, Mrs. R. L. Thomas and Miss Ida Siggins. Miss Siggins had charge of the Flag Day program. Those taking part were Mrs. W. Moss, Mrs. A. V. Clinger, Miss Martha Jennings, Mrs. Anna Fuellhart, Mrs. H. Jennings and Mrs. W. Coon. There were 12 invited guests. Those from out of town were Mrs. Criden and guest of East Hickory.

Miss Helen Lodge spent the weekend in Titusville, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Robinson.

Mrs. John M. Lyon returned to her home in Warren after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Briggs.

Mrs. E. O. Meddock, of Clarendon, spent several days of last week visiting her mother, Mrs. E. U. Greenlee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Carnahan and family, of Erie, were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. George McKown.

Sergeant W. R. Robinson, stationed at Camp Shenango, Shenango, Pa., spent a few days visiting his wife.

Miss Gladys Donaldson spent the weekend in Pleasantville, visiting her sister, Mrs. Roger Oiler, and family.

Miss Passart returned to Pittsburgh Sunday after completing her year's work in the Tidioute High school.

Sea-lions swallow small, round pebbles, apparently as an aid to digestion.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, June 18—The meeting of the Hill and Dale Garden Club, has been postponed one week and will meet June 30th at the home of Mrs. Mabel Dalas.

An honor roll bearing the names of the service men from this community has been placed in Memorial Park by the borough council. The roll has more than one hundred names on it.

An important part of the Sunday service at the Presbyterian Church was omitted from a previous account. The new Cradle Roll Superintendent, Mrs. Carl Perrin dedicated the new roll bearing seventeen names and many of the babies and their parents were present at the service and received recognition.

Thomas Carr, stationed with the SeaBees at Camp Endicott, R. I., has been spending nine days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carr.

Mrs. George S. Gillespie, of Two Harbors, Minn., has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Perrin this week.

Mrs. Warren Kelly is a surgical patient in the W. C. A. Hospital, Jamestown.

Edward Dennigan and Emmannuel Woerner, of Pittsburgh, were weekend guests of the former's grandmother, Mrs. G. E. Denigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin have moved into the Norbeck house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carter.

Mrs. Ray Johnson has come home from the W. C. A. Hospital where she underwent an appendectomy.

Mrs. Mabel Dallas, and Mrs. John Lawson, of Busti, are attending a Daughters League meeting in New York.
